MORE HOLIDAYS NEEDED.

Everyle-dy in Kansas City, man, woman and child, should enjoy this day as a real heliday. Dult care, business worry, household vexation, children's grisds should all be dispelled for a time. that holidays are too few to slight with impunity. "All work and no play makes mire such a healthful locality of thought. Jack a dull boy" is just as true of the that no epidemic need be feared. The man "Jack" as the boy "Jack," and he as greatly needs the play. Most of our people know well how to work They need take time to learn to play to rest. The competition in trade is in charge and severe, one man feels he canon step out of the race to empty a brist oliday shows he will be distanced by those who keep right on. plan. Could the employes of our large establishments of all kinds but have these extra hours for recreation and outings, the extra energy and nerve force stored up to be expended in bet ter service in business would more than repay the money cost of the holiday As a people we are altogether too muc oncerned about the almighty dollar and take too little pleasure along with business. The countries of Europe car teach us some excellent lessons on this mention. But to make the Saturday afternoon holiday a success in our cit will require the co-operation of the buy ing and selling public. The gains ob tained by such a plan would make it S. F. IN MEMORIAM.

In the recent sudden death of Mrs. Carrie M. Morrison the W. C. T. U. has lost a valued worker and a loval friendwoman of culture and refinement. Mrs. Marrison was the corresponding secretary of the Willard W. C. T. U. and was this connected with several local clubs At the time of her sudden death she was working on the women's edition of the Journal. We feel her loss keenly but solars ourselves with the thought that she is performing a higher misgion. Our love and sympathy go out to her bereaved family. We shall work. but we shall miss her.
